

Fannie Mae Single-Family Loan Performance Data Glossary

Fannie Mae is providing loan performance data on a portion of its single-family mortgage loans to promote better understanding of the credit performance of Fannie Mae mortgage loans.

The population includes a subset of Fannie Mae's 30-year, fully amortizing, full documentation, single-family, conventional fixed-rate mortgages. This dataset does not include data on adjustable-rate mortgage loans, balloon mortgage loans, interest-only mortgage loans, mortgage loans with prepayment penalties, government-insured mortgage loans, Home Affordable Refinance Program (HARP) mortgage loans, Refi PlusTM mortgage loans, and non-standard mortgage loans. Certain types of mortgage loans (e.g., mortgage loans with original LTVs greater than 97 percent, Alt-A, other mortgage loans with reduced documentation and/or streamlined processing, and programs or variances that are ineligible today) have been excluded in order to make the dataset more reflective of current underwriting guidelines. Also excluded are mortgage loans originated prior to 1999, mortgage loans subject to long-term standby commitments, sold with lender recourse or subject to other third-party risk-sharing arrangements, or were acquired by Fannie Mae on a negotiated bulk basis.

The initial population of mortgage loans represents Fannie Mae acquisitions between January 1, 2000 and March 31, 2012 with corresponding monthly performance data as of December 31, 2012. Every quarter following the initial release, Fannie Mae will update the acquisitions data to include a new quarter of acquired mortgage loans as of the prior year in addition to providing updated performance data as of the previous quarter. Fannie Mae will release updated information the first month of each quarter generally on or after the 20th day of such month.

Borrower Credit Score	A	A numerical value used by the financial services industry to evaluate the quality of borrower credit. Credit scores are typically based on a proprietary statistical model that is developed for use by credit data repositories. These credit repositories apply the model to borrower credit information to arrive at a credit score. When this term is used by Fannie Mae, it is referring to the "classic" FICO score developed by Fair Isaac Corporation.	In cases where a mortgage loan is delivered without a credit score or the credit score information is outdated, Fannie Mae may acquire an updated credit score and use this information in place of the data provided at the time of the mortgage loan delivery. If the borrower credit score is outside of the range mentioned above or is unknown the value will be blank.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 300 - 850 • Blank (if Credit Score is < 300 or > 850 or unknown)

For mortgage loans acquired prior to March 2013, the term “retail” may also, from time to time, include certain mortgage loans originated pursuant to a contractual arrangement, specifically approved by Fannie Mae, between a third party and the mortgage loan seller by which the third party may perform one or more of the functions (but not all) related to the origination of the mortgage loan, including taking the mortgage loan application, processing, underwriting, funding or delivering the mortgage loan to Fannie Mae. Broker (B): A mortgage loan that is originated under circumstances where a person or firm other than a mortgage loan seller or lender correspondent is acting as a “broker” and receives a commission for bringing together a borrower and a lender. The broker performs some (or most) of the loan processing functions (such as taking loan applications; ordering credit reports, appraisals, and title reports; verifying a borrower’s income and employment; etc.), but it typically does not actually underwrite the loan, fund the loan at settlement, or service the loan. The mortgage loan is closed in the name of and funded by the mortgage loan seller (or, in some cases, the lender correspondent) that commissioned the broker’s services. Correspondent (C): A mortgage loan that is originated by a party other than a mortgage loan seller and is then sold to a mortgage loan

The mortgage loan is closed in the name of the lender correspondent, which may or may not service the loan. In certain instances, a correspondent loan may be originated under circumstances in which a broker performs some of the loan processing functions but the loan is funded by the lender correspondent at settlement. In that case, the loan would typically be classified as a correspondent loan even though there was some involvement by a broker.

In cases where a mortgage loan is delivered without a credit score or the credit score information is outdated, Fannie Mae may acquire an updated credit score and use this information in place of the data provided at the time of the mortgage loan delivery.
